PREFACE

The Office of Revenue Sharing uses a unique 9 digit number to identify each of the more than 39,000 government units eligible to receive general revenue sharing funds. Most of the publications developed by the Office of Revenue Sharing list governments in sequence by this account number. For this reason, and because of the repetitive use of names within a State, we have printed this alphabetical guide to the account numbers.

USER'S GUIDE

The Office of Revenue Sharing has assigned a unique account number to each of the governments receiving general revenue sharing funds. These account numbers are formulated in the manner set forth in the preceding "Key to Account Numbers."

The Guide is organized by State. Each State has an alphabetical list of all county governments followed by an alphabetical list of all local governments.

If there is more than one local government with the same name within a State, then proper identification can be achieved by first identifying the county of its location, and then selecting the account number with a matching county code.
